- After mastering de-alcoholisation, Vincent and François PUGIBET started to tackle a major project of patience : the creation of new, resistant grape varieties, grouped under the name "PIWIs". The purchase of an organic vineyard in 1999 was an opportunity to engage in the creation of new varieties that are naturally resistant to vine diseases such as powdery mildew and downy mildew. These new varieties allow viticulture without using any pesticide. It is the beginning of the end of copper, sulphur and chemical spraying. From this innovative new project our new product line named "Au Creux du Nid" was born. These wines, full of vitality and character are dedicated to our future generations at La Colombette.
